Introduction to the Liturgy of the Day

In today’s Gospel, Jesus passes by the Sea of Galilee and calls the first four disciples, two pairs of brothers: Simon and Andrew, James and John. Follow me, he tells these four fishermen, and I will make you fishers of more disciples. Jesus continues to call disciples; indeed, we were all called when we were baptized. On this Sunday of the Word of God, may the stories of Jonah, of Paul, and of the first four disciples inspire us to drop our nets and follow more closely our Lord as his disciples. In the first reading we hear today, God sends Jonah to the huge city of Nineveh, where he warns of God’s wrath and calls for repentance. In the Gospel, Jesus comes to Galilee calling for repentance as well. He proceeds to call his first disciples, promising that he would change their lives. They follow immediately, much as the residents of Nineveh turned toward the LORD immediately. As Paul reminds the Corinthians, “time is running out.” Let us realize the urgency with which we’re called to repent and follow the Lord.

Third Sunday in Ordinary Time

To Answer the Call

Something very profound is going on in this brief passage about the call of the first apostles. Jesus calls, they follow. It's a pretty simple cause and effect scenario. Yet, you and I both know that following Jesus is anything but simple these days...right? Or could it be that this passage is the perfect model for just how radical it is to follow Jesus?

Jesus offered the first apostles no explanations, He didn't try to sway them. He boldly called out an invitation and issued a promise. He continues to stand by the shore near our boats and offer the same to us.

First, He invites us. It's a call, a challenge, a summons to adventure. "Come on, let me show you where you could go." However, Jesus always respects our free will. We freely choose to follow, or to remain behind. The choice is ours.

Then, he makes a promise, "I will make you fishers of men." What does that mean exactly? Each baptized individual is called to be a witness of the faith. This mission looks different for each person. I am called to witness to the faith in this written format. I am also called to share the faith with my children. Others are called to be a witness in the workplace. Some of you might witness before large groups of people. Others will share the faith one person at a time, helping to share the light of Christ candle by candle.

We are invited, each in our own unique way, to participate in Jesus' mission to build the Kingdom of Heaven. No matter who we are, Jesus invites us to get up and go on an adventure with Him.

I think the word "abandoned" is important here. Abandoned is a very active word, it paints a vivid picture of someone throwing an object aside, forgetting it's very existence. The first apostles abandoned their nets when they answered Jesus' summons. They didn't hold onto their tools, just in case. They didn't ask to stow their boats first so they wouldn't get stolen.

The apostles show us how to let go of everything to follow Jesus. This isn't an easy task, and fortunately we have a God who is not outdone in generosity. There isn't a time limit on Jesus' call to discipleship. He calls us every day, every moment. Over and over again, we have the opportunity to more freely say "Yes!" and abandon our own nets to follow Jesus.

Week of Prayer for Christian Unity

January 18-25

The Week of Prayer for Christian Unity has a history of over 100 years, in which Christians around the world have taken part in an octave of prayer for visible Christian unity. By annually observing the WPCU, Christians move toward the fulfillment of Jesus' prayer at the Last Supper "that they all may be one." (cf. John 17:21)

In preparation for the WPCU, ecumenical partners in a particular region were asked to prepare a basic text on a biblical theme. Then an international group organized through the World Council of Churches (WCC) and The Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity edited this text, which was jointly published by the Pontifical Council for Promoting Christian Unity and WCC, through their Commission on Faith and Order. The WCC accompanied the entire production process of the text. The final material was sent to member churches and Roman Catholic dioceses, and they were invited to translate the text and contextualize it for their own use.

Further promotional and preparatory materials for the annual WPCU can be found through the World Council of Churches and the Graymoor Ecumenical and Interreligious Institute websites, including:

2024: "You shall love the Lord your God... and your neighbor as yourself." - Luke 10:27

For the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity 2024, the Pontifical Dicastery for Promoting Christian Unity, the World Council of Churches, and the Christian Churches in Burkina Faso selected "You shall love the Lord your God... and your neighbor as yourself," from the Gospel of Luke 10:27. This theme highlights the call for charity, mercy, justice, and unity in inter-communal relations.

What Are the Primary Reasons Children Attend Catholic Schools?

Many parents are concerned when it comes to their children's education. They want their children to receive the best education possible, so their child will have a better chance of success as adults.

Some of the primary reasons parents send their children to a Catholic school are:

- Catholic schools offer a high level of academic excellence infused with virtues.
- Catholic schools provide an education in the Catholic faith with an emphasis on Catholic values.
- Catholic schools like St Bart help children develop healthy social relationships and sense of community with a Pre K – 8th grade school model.
- Catholic schools offer a supportive environment for children to develop and showcase leadership skills.

Should I Send My Child to St Bartholomew Catholic School?

The best way to know if a Catholic school education and SBCC is right for your child is to schedule a visit. You'll have an opportunity to visit the school and classrooms to get a feel for the place. You can meet and talk with the administrators and teachers to get to know them. Also, you can learn more about our STEM program and the extracurricular activities we offer. You're welcome to attend our Open House.
