The Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

June 2, 2024

SEQUENCE

Lo! the angel's food is given
To the pilgrim who has striven;
see the children's bread from heaven,
which on dogs may not be spent.

Truth the ancient types fulfilling,
Isaac bound, a victim willing,
Paschal lamb, its lifeblood spilling,
manna to the fathers sent.

Very bread, good shepherd, tend us,
Jesu, of your love befriend us,
You refresh us, you defend us,
Your eternal goodness send us
In the land of life to see.

You who all things can and know,
Who on earth such food bestow,
Grant us with your saints, though lowest,
Where the heav'nly feast you show,
Fellow heirs and guests to be. Amen. Alleluia.

THE SAINTS' QUOTES ON THE EUCHARIST

Just as the bread, which is made from the earth, when God is invoked is no longer common bread but the Eucharist, both earthly and heavenly, so our bodies, after we have received the Eucharist, are no longer corruptible, since they hold the hope of the resurrection.

--St. Irenaeus

"If we but paused for a moment to consider attentively what takes place in this Sacrament, I am sure that the thought of Christ's love for us would transform the coldness of our hearts into a fire of love and gratitude."

-- St. Angela of Foligno

"When you have received Him, stir up your heart to do Him homage; speak to Him about your spiritual life, gazing upon Him in your soul where He is present for your happiness; welcome Him as warmly as possible, and behave outwardly in such a way that your actions may give proof to all of His Presence."

-- St. Francis de Sales

TODAY'S MASS READINGS

First Reading -- This is the blood of the covenant that the Lord has made with you.

Exodus 24:3–8

Responsorial Psalm -- “I will take the cup of salvation, and call on the name of the Lord.”

Psalm 116

Second Reading -- The blood of Christ will cleanse our consciences. Hebrews 9:11–15

Gospel Reading -- This is my body. This is my blood of the covenant. Mark 14:12–16, 22–26

Introduction to the Liturgy of the Day

We are a Eucharistic people, receiving sustenance from the Body and Blood of our Lord in the Eucharist so that we may be sent out as disciples, manifesting the real presence of Jesus in our lives as we build up the body of Christ. In this year of the National Eucharistic Congress, may our appreciation of his real presence in his Body and Blood be revived and may our enthusiasm for the Christian mission be rekindled.

Blood and sacrifice are bonded throughout today's readings. When the Chosen People promise to follow the LORD's commands, Moses sanctifies that vow with the blood of bulls that had been sacrificed to the LORD. The author of Hebrews explains that Christ's sacrificial blood cleanses us of our sins. Jesus, who will soon become the Passover lamb sacrificed for us all, shares a cup of his Blood with his disciples before facing his arrest at the Mount of Olives. Anticipating the sacrificial meal we will share, let us listen to God's word.

Panis Angelicus / Bread of Angels

Music is a way to express emotion when words are otherwise limited. As I have always found prayer difficult, I've been trying to better develop my relationship with God through various aids. One recent example is investing in piano lessons for my children, with the hope that this will result in a skillset that they can use to praise God. Have you ever stopped to take in just how important music is in the Church? How many beautiful hymns can you recall word for word?

Panis Angelicus is one of my favorite hymns about the Eucharist. I remember growing up listening to the version by then 10-year-old Charlotte Church. In English, the hymn is translated as “The Bread of Angels”, and originates from a longer hymn by Saint Thomas Aquinas for the Feast of Corpus Christi (the Body of Christ).

Bread of Angels, made the bread of men; The Bread of heaven puts an end to all symbols: A thing wonderful! The Lord becomes our food: poor, a servant, and humble. We beseech Thee, Godhead One in Three That Thou wilt visit us, as we worship Thee, lead us through Thy ways, We who wish to reach the light in which Thou dwellest. Amen.

The Feast of Corpus Christi is about understanding the importance of the Eucharist, that which can only happen through the Mass. Understanding the value and importance of the Mass is so important, especially since it is so often taken for granted. It is a battle against the distractions of this world to prioritize Mass, particularly when multiple family members need convincing. Becoming one with Jesus when receiving Communion is a mystery that can be hard to grasp. But as Saint John Vianney declared, “If we truly understood the Mass, we would die of joy!” Jesus gave us this most awe-inspiring Gift of Himself. It is difficult to capture with human emotion, but is a reminder that He is always with us, nourishing us in times of both prosperity and weakness, until the end of the age.

Altar servers Methushella Cape (left) and Carly Sylvain, of St. Bartholomew Church, in Miramar receive their recognition from Father Matthew Gomez, archdiocesan vocations director at the Altar Server Awards ceremony on Saturday, April 20, 2024. This event was organized by the Serra Clubs of Miami and Broward, at St. John Vianney College Seminary. Cape and Sylvain were two of the approximately 130 altar servers who received awards for their service.

Advice to graduates

Angelique Ruhi-Lopez - Florida Catholic

It's graduation season and if there's one thing that's synonymous with commencement ceremonies, it's lots of advice. Commencement speakers love to share timeless wisdom such as, make your bed every morning or never hit the snooze button. I would certainly never give advice I don't try to follow myself (hence why I wouldn't give anyone the aforementioned advice!)

Yet, on the eve of my oldest son's high school graduation, I have been reflecting a lot on all the things I want to say as he launches into this new phase of life. But the truth is, though I am apt to dole out advice to graduates, some of the advice I share here are reminders that I need regularly as well:

- Your worth is not defined by the college you attend, how much money you make, or the job title you hold. Your worth is defined by God alone and the ultimate prize is heaven.
- Study hard in school, work hard at your job and in your classes but above all, be a student of life. Your biggest lessons won't be learned inside a classroom, but in the school of life.
- Don't lose sight of the person God made you to be. What are the talents God gave you that help make you unique? Ask God to help show you how you can use these talents to serve others to help you discover your vocation.
- Make wise choices. Tap into those gifts of the Holy Spirit that you were given at Confirmation to help guide and inspire your choices. And if you make a poor choice (you will!), get back up and try again. You don't always choose what happens to you, but you can choose how you react to it.
- We live in a culture of entitlement, but nothing is deserved in this life. Anything that is freely given is a gift from God who loves you as His beloved child and gives you all good things, unmerited, that you might come to know Him better.
- If you ever question or stray from the faith, go back to basics. Ask questions but look for the answers. Read the Bible. Pick up the Catechism. And ask God to multiply your faith.
- Choose friends who help you get closer to heaven. Look to the saints as well. They are our friends in heaven and learning how they lived their lives can help us in our own walk toward happiness and holiness.
- Remember the words of St. John Paul II: "It is Jesus that you seek when you dream of happiness; he is waiting for you when nothing else you find satisfies you..."
- Strive for the narrow road. Don't get swept up in the wave of mediocrity.
- Speak up when you see injustice. Don't just think that someone else will do it. You might be the one God is calling to give voice to the voiceless.
- Listen. Process. Think before speaking. Use common sense. Be flexible.
- Be kind and charitable. Extend mercy and forgiveness to others. Everyone is bearing their own crosses.
- You don't have it all figured out right now (contrary to what you might think!) And you're not going to have life all figured out when you're in college either. Nor 5 years later. Nor 20 years later. Nor 40 years later. We continue growing and learning.
- Be patient with your parents. We are learning to let go and learning to parent young adult children. We will get it wrong sometimes. You will get frustrated - so will we. But we are trying and will always be here to love you, pray for you, challenge you and support you.

You don't have to follow my advice. But, my beloved son, my goddaughter, and all graduates:

J* do encourage you to follow Jesus.

About us

St Bartholomew Catholic School has been serving the community since 1965. As the only Catholic school in Miramar, we strive to provide an environment that continues to innovate while embracing our Catholic faith and leading our students in Service-Learning opportunities.

Some of the primary reasons parents send their children to a Catholic school are:

- Catholic schools offer a high level of academic excellence infused with virtues.
- Catholic schools provide an education in the Catholic faith with an emphasis on Catholic values.
- Catholic schools like St Bart help children develop healthy social relationships and sense of community with a Pre K – 8th grade school model.
- Catholic schools offer a supportive environment for children to develop and showcase leadership skills.
